

GREETINGS

VMD 105!

From the mind of
VIANA GOODWIN

Hello everyone! My name is Viana Goodwin. I'm taking this class as a prerequisite to the Animation course. An intro to me: I love bright colors and artsy designs, so I found this wonderful postcard to use! The font I am writing in is Brush Script Std.

For this photoshop final I chose video games as my inspiration. During this semester of school I've been taking on four full classes as well as working part-time. The image is supposed to represent how you're able to use vido games as a means for escape from all the stress and work. The characters all along the background are from video games I love or really want to play.

WASN'T
ME

For this project my little baby boy Yuki was my inspiration. I stalked him for a month at the shelter, and I'm so in love with him. But he is a little devil monster, biting things he shouldn't, jumping on things he shouldn't, etc. So I wanted to capture his energy into this picture.

Here comes Yuki again! This time he's harrassing me as I try to draw. To be honest, he normally doesn't do this at all he always plays with his mice toys. I just thought it would be a fun and playful idea to try out.
